

Making a statement: dark surfaces

Fittings with dark surfaces

We all know that the overall impression of your home is the sum of many parts. Now Blum has even more solutions for perfectly coordinated details. We have an extensive product range that demonstrates its modern appeal in terms of form and function both on and beneath the surface.

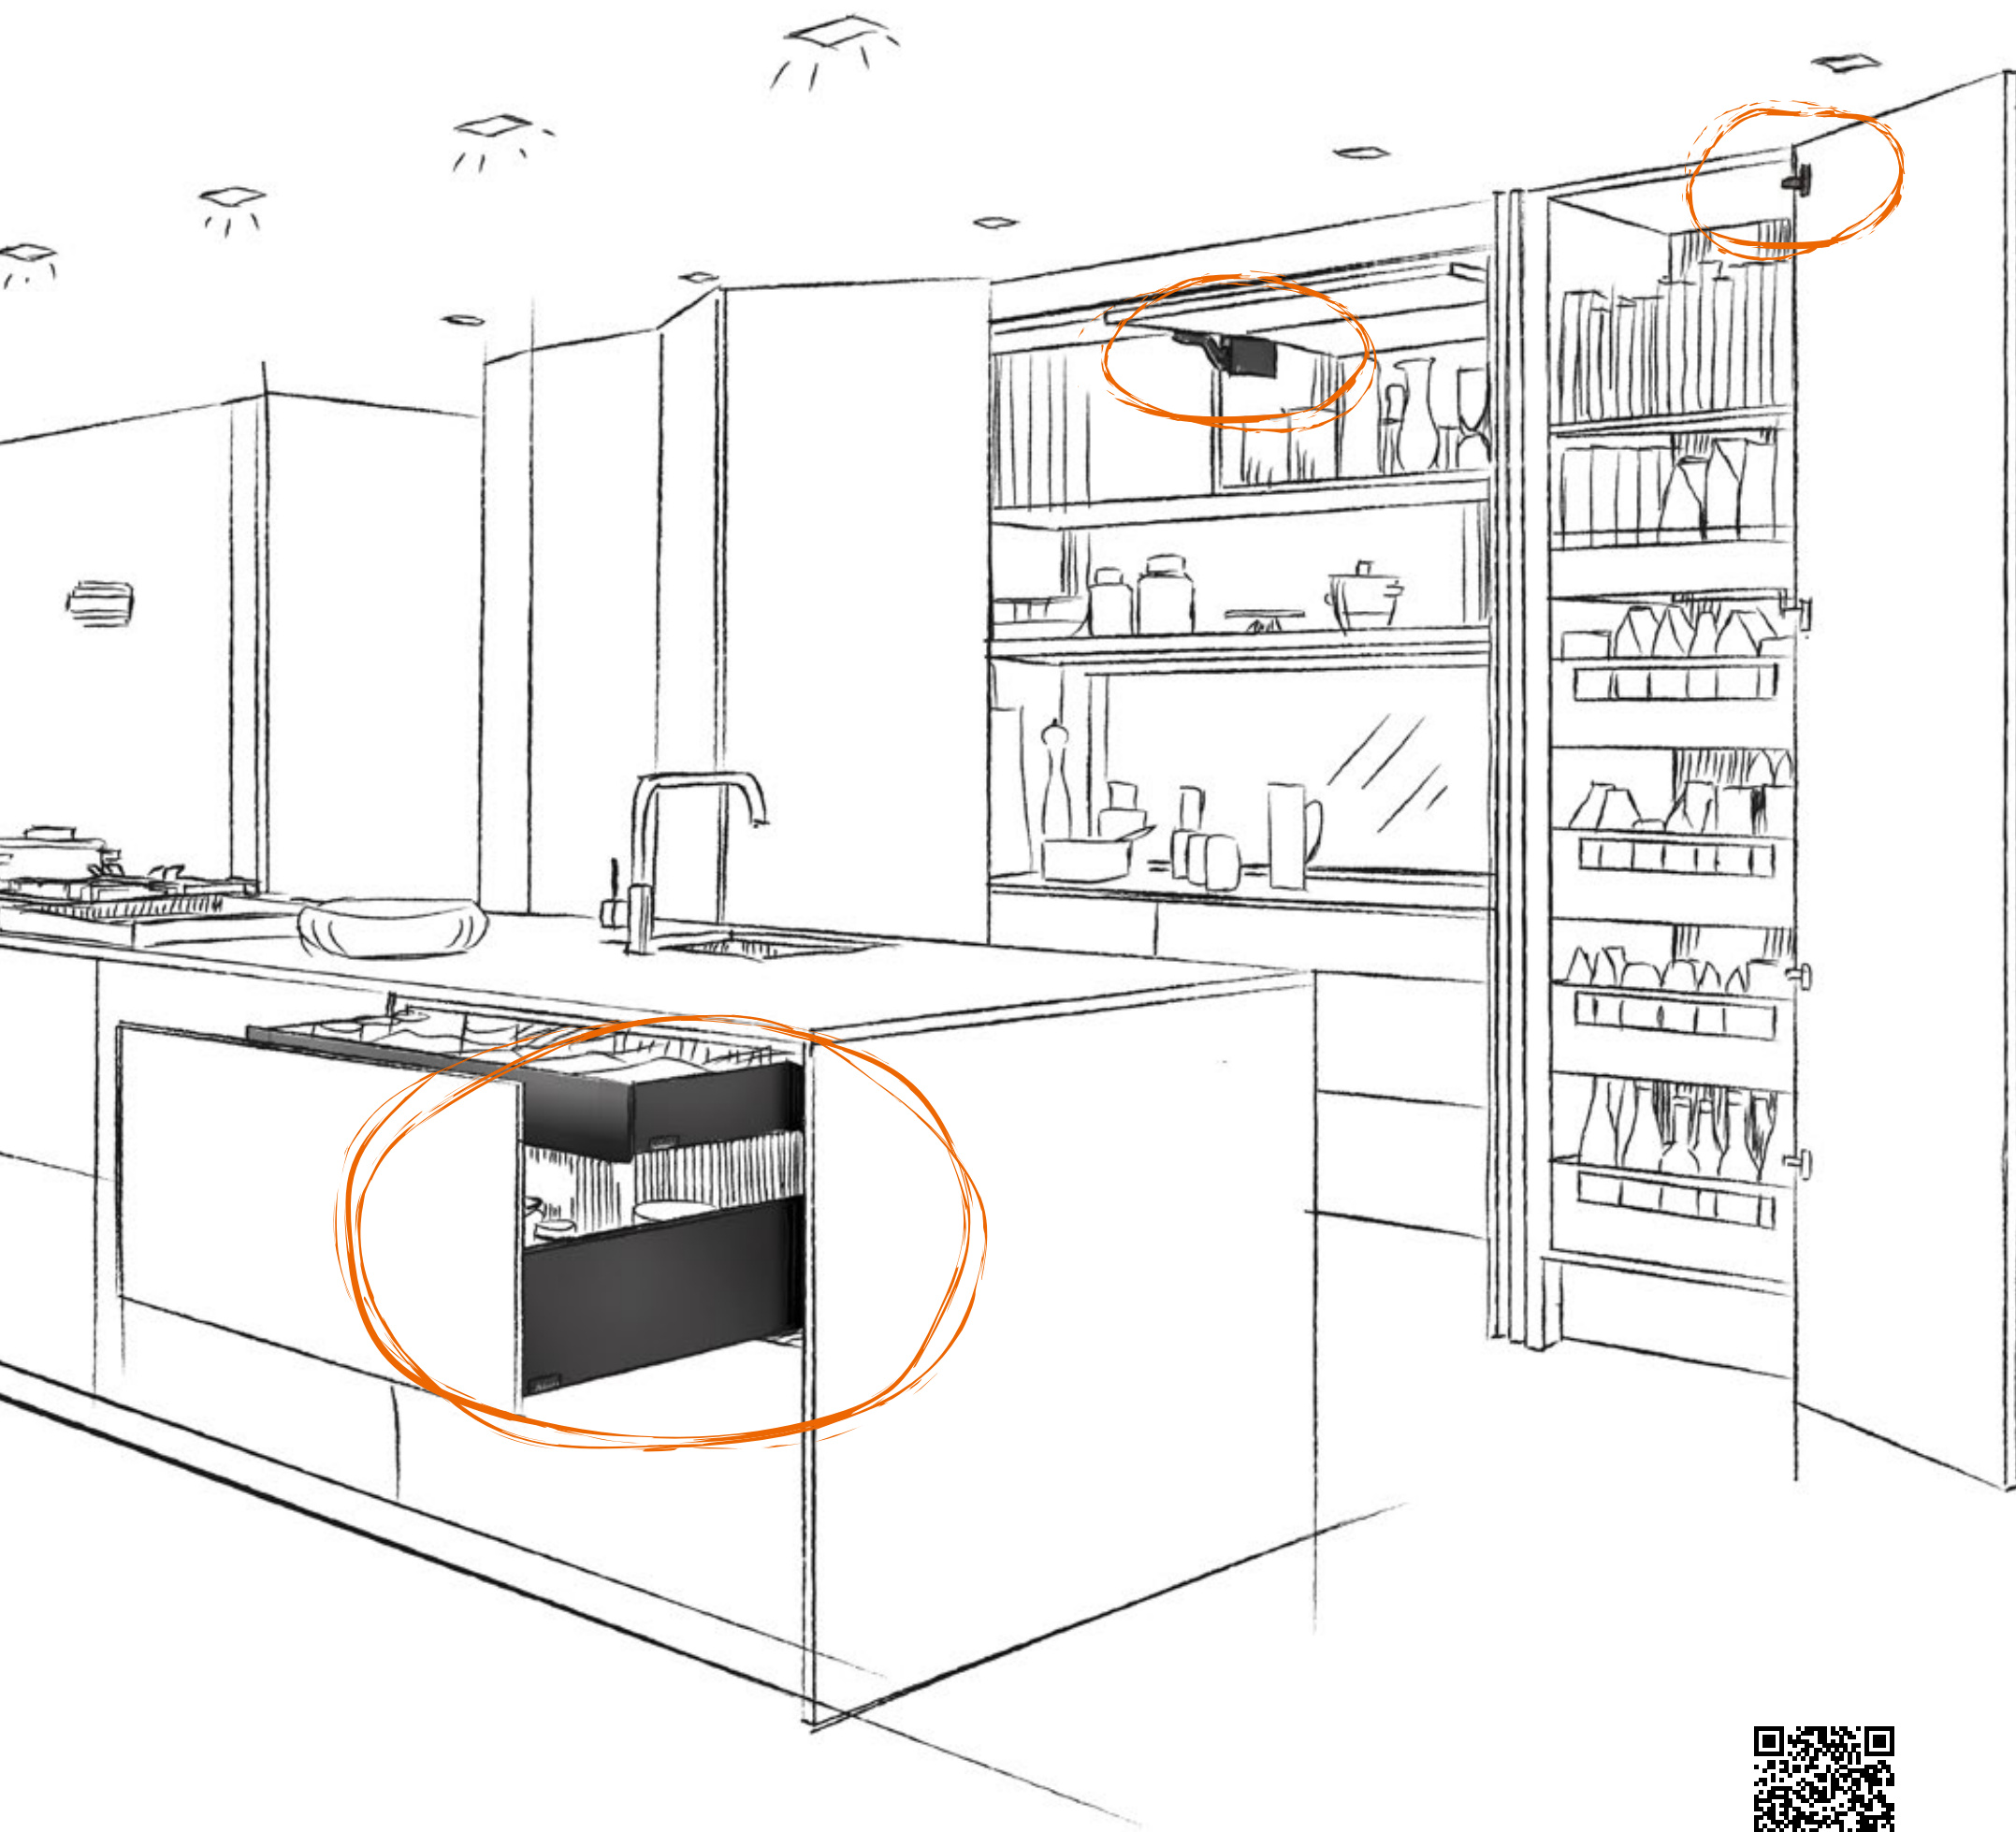

Dark fittings from Blum

When I design a piece of furniture, every detail has to be just right. With dark fittings, these details become a feature: a real statement in every living space.

Limitless possibilities

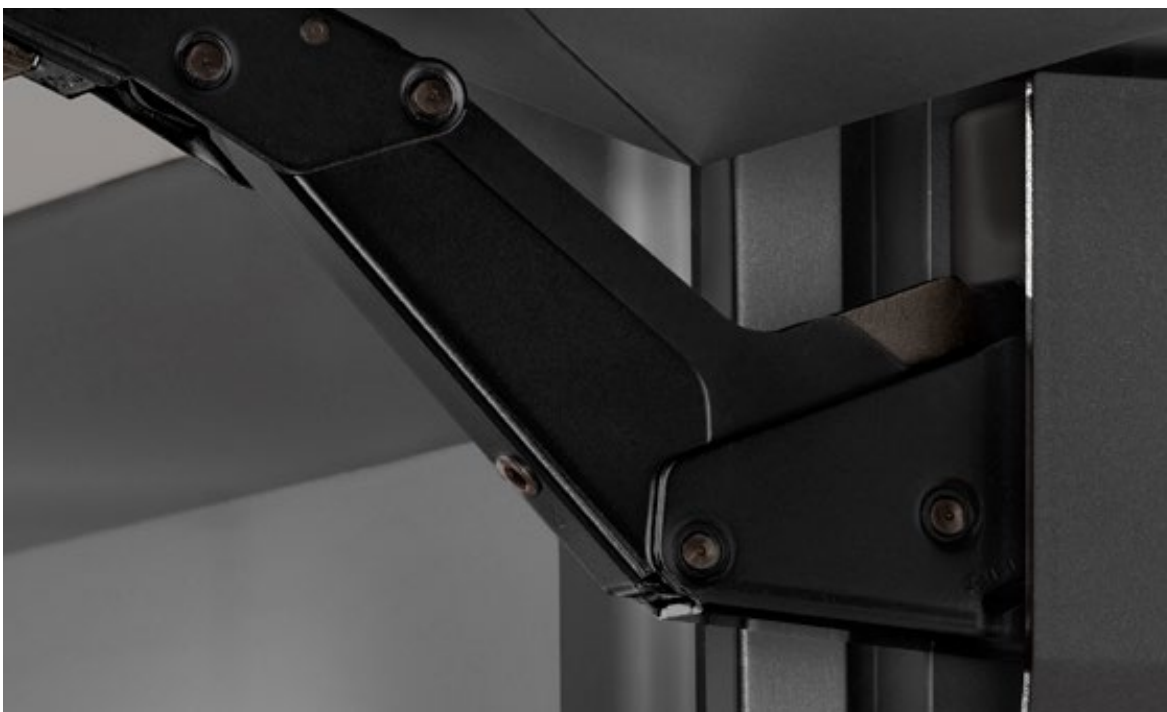

You want to add design accents to light-coloured furniture? Or keep to a harmonious dark colour palette? Maybe dark fittings would make a great counterpoint to the bold colours used in your design concept? Whatever your goal, Blum gives you complete freedom to implement your ideas.

Consistency

Whether hinges, lift systems or box systems: it has never been easier to equip furniture with dark fittings from top to bottom. Best of all, Blum is your one-stop shop for everything you need.

Proven Blum quality

No matter the colour of the fitting, Blum ensures that all its products deliver durability and convenience, which we achieve by applying stringent quality standards. Our dark colour options are resistant to surface damage so that both you and your customers can be confident that they will be able to rely on their fittings for many years.

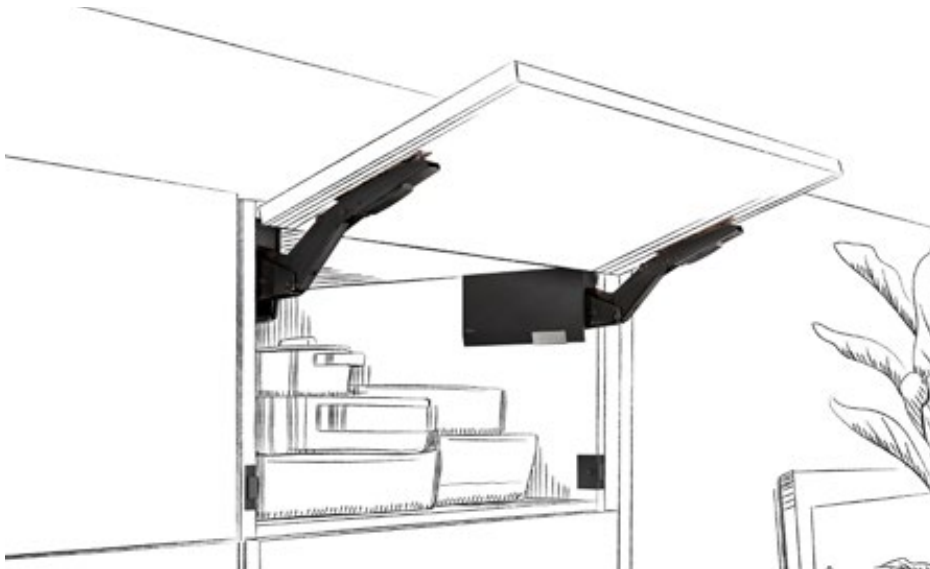

The perfect overall appearance

With Blum, you can implement furniture with dark fittings throughout, from top to bottom, creating a unique aesthetic. Our product range is among the most extensive on the market and offers numerous design possibilities. See for yourself.

I am a very visual person and it is important to me that everything goes together perfectly, from my table decorations to the materials and colours of my furniture. With Blum dark-coloured drawers, hinges and fronts, I can now make sure that the interior of my furniture items live up to my design standards. For me as a perfectionist, this is a real win.

Lift systems

Absolute freedom of movement, combined with timeless design: cabinets don't just look elegant from the outside. With the AVENTOS top family of lift systems and the AVENTOS HKi stay lift fitting, which is fully integrated into the cabinet side, the new dark colour means you have a statement piece inside and out.

Box systems

Our box systems, such as LEGRABOX shown here, are synonymous with the highest standards and offer the right design for every style, including dark colour options. Upon request, customised drawer side designs are also possible.

Hinge systems

Dark hinges subtly blend in with the furniture item or add deliberate design accents. This makes them ideal for more creative freedom in furniture construction, without having to compromise on the design.

Motion in colour

Hinge systems

With dark colour hinges you can create striking contrasts to natural surfaces. Alternatively, combine them with dark colour cabinets for a harmonious overall appearance.

New design options

Lift systems

Dark fittings make a bold statement in furniture items with a natural colour palette. In combination with a dark aluminium frame, AVENTOS impresses with a particularly sharp and modern look.

For the highest design requirements

Box systems

Box systems such as LEGRABOX bring an elegant note to dark-coloured kitchens, for instance when combined with the REVEGO pocket system that also comes with dark fittings or the perfectly coordinated AMBIA-LINE inner dividing system. The contrast with light blue, as shown in this mobile coffee station, also makes for a striking look.

Dark surfaces

Dark fittings solutions for so many different applications are a real game-changer for me. I can finally create furniture concepts with a fully cohesive design. For me as an interior designer, these fittings are the icing on the cake in any living space.

Stylish accents in dark tones

Whether in the kitchen, the bathroom or the living room: the dark theme is reflected throughout in Gianna's design. An avowed aesthete, she swears by concepts that work in all areas of the home, independent of the room. Cohesion is key, both for the exterior and the interior of the furniture piece. For her, this is the only way to turn her designs into bold statements.

Fittings in beautiful dark colours enhance modern furniture pieces anywhere in the home. They blend in seamlessly with the existing look and turn furniture items into an emotional experience.
